

On Saturday they assisted in raising furniture in one house in the northern low outlying areas quickly ran off with the easing of tidal flow.

Level Higher at New Brighton

Worst hit of the surrounding areas was New Brighton where flood water entered the general store and other premises.

Mr Kurt Selter of the Capricornia Motel and restaurant at Golden Beach reported 32 inches of water still in the motel premises yesterday afternoon, but the road was clear from New Brighton to the highway.

Eight people, mostly from Brisbane, were still stranded at the motel last night. At New Brighton the position was relieved at the peak of the flood when the water broke through beach terraces to the north of the village and escaped into the sea.

Many local people believe recent changes in the training walls at Brunswick Heads were responsible for the higher than usual flood.

It was reported that the North Arm floodwater flowed like a waterfall over the main wall.

It was reported from New Brighton last night that waves were breaking into the opening out in the beach terrace by the escaping flood.

Shire

on Wilson described the worst. The water was as soon as Cr. E. J. cast a backing on flood. Cr. G. pressed the backing overtaken.
